

Demand Attribution Update

Demand Attribution

- Demand Attribution relies on information from a number of parties and Involves at least 6 systems (NG & DN's)
- In 2012 we saw a number of failures attributed to one of the systems in the process. NG identified changes to the system and since these changes were implemented there have been no further faults in that area.
- Over the last few months we have experienced an increase in the number of issues impacting the provision of information. These are:-
 - System Related (to one or more system)
 - Incorrect data provision
- We have identified the specific system failures and are in the process of putting various measures in place.
